EPC Rating D

The unit was constructed in the 1950s and is located off the Meridian Way on a busy industrial site in one of North London's most accessible settings. The site forms part of the Lea Valley Industrial Area and has access into central London via the newly constructed Meridian Water station (10min walk).

The premises is currently used for paper cutting services and is suited for industrial trades/storage. On the first floor there is a sizeable mezzanine level including further storage, office space and kitchens. There are WC facilities on both the ground and first floors. The unit, of steel frame and brick infill construction, would benefit from modernisation and is accessed via a shared yard with demised parking adjoining the property. The warehouse space has a generous head height with the loading bay benefitting from vehicular access via loading doors to the southern elevation. There is the potential for a purchaser to split the units (7E & 7G) and would be suitable for investors or owner occupiers.
